Don't Pull A Cat

Mayor Mullins tells the following cat-tale: One of his colored hands was standing, harmlessly watching a dog chasing a cat, when suddenly and without warning, the feline scampered up the negro's body and perched squarely on top of his head. When a friend attempted to remove the cat by grabbing hold of its tail, the colored cat-bearer cried out, "Don't never try to pull a cat-you gotta push!"

Fine Showers

A fine shower Tuesday afternoon and another Thursday morning put an end to a three weeks drought which was seriously damaging gardens and causing a lot of seed not to come up. Many peanut fields have poor stands and some have to be replanted. These two rains have been very beneficial.

Five Years Late

F. M. Cain, of New Brockton, said he read the article about the election of Jim Knight as Coffee County's and Alabama's youngest sheriff, in The Clipper last week, with a great deal of interest, but it should have been 45 years ago instead of 40 years. He said he remembers the date because it was his first vote and it was 45 years ago. At any rate, it was a very unusual election and will long be remembered.

Too Much Fox

S. A. Hataway, who lives on Route 3, reports a thrilling experience he had one day last week. He said his small dog was baying something in a hollow log in his field which he supposed was a coon, possum, or some like animal. He tore away some rotten wood and all at once a large mother fox came flying out of the log and was "all over" him before he could defend himself. His faithful dog came to his rescue, grabbing the fox by the neck, but was too light to hold its antagonist, which ran pell-mell away from them, dragging the dog with her.

Mr. Hataway said the dog returned in about an hour, panting and completely worn out. When he dug into the log he found four little foxes which he took home with him, giving them to some neighbor boys. He said he was disappointed that the mother fox escaped, as he has been missing chickens and pigs.

New Home

Rev. Kie Sasser, pastor of the Elba Assembly of God church, is building a pretty new residence at the corner of Williams and Guyton streets in West Elba. Rev. Sasser is doing most of the work himself and is doing a good job. Mr. and Mrs. Sasser have not decided whether they will move into their new house or rent it. At present they are residing in the parsonage next to the church.

Pastor Sasser reports that his Sunday School is making good progress, the attendance on Sunday, April 25, being 80, an increase from a previous average of about 60. Church attendance, he said, is also growing.

Tobe Rhodes Visits

T. T. Rhodes, who is supervising The Southern Benefit Insurance Company's interests in the Sand Mountain territory, with headquarters at Albertville, spent the week-end in Elba. Mrs. Rhodes spent the previous week with her husband in Albertville and brought Tobe home with her. He reports business good in the Sand Mountain district but said they are still picking last year's cotton crop. Tobe said the SM people are fine folks. For instance: He was invited to attend a neighborhood meeting, called for the purpose of finding out whether there were any neighbors who had any objection to the man who called the meeting buying 40 acres of land for a home in the community. That might not be a bad idea at that.

Tobe has made a success of the insurance business and can be serious when he wants to, but he gets a big kick out of life and is as full of jokes as the proverbial dog is of fleas.

Elba Ties One, Loses One In Games Last Week

Lose Lead In Standings; Floral Here Sunday

The Elba baseball team played a tie game in Dozier last Thursday evening in which various kinds of ball playing were displayed. Elba scored twice in the first inning and once in the third. Dozier scored four tallies in the third and three more in the fifth. When they scored five more in the seventh it looked like defeat No. 1 for the Red Birds. But Manager Martin's boys never to be counted out until the 9th inning is over. They pushed over 3 tallies in the eighth and showed their never-say-die spirit in the ninth inning by scoring six runs and tying the score, 14-14.

The game was a long drawn-out affair, requiring about three hours, so when the ninth inning came to a close the game was called due to darkness. Plant did the hurling for Elba and allowed 19 hits and 14 runs. Johnson did the receiving. Elba made 14 runs on 15 safeties. Each team made four misplays. It was one of the longest games seen in this section, especially for a nine-inning contest.

Elba was handed its first defeat of the season by Laverne in a game played Sunday afternoon at the High School Field on account of the soft condition of Nelson Field, where most of the games have been played. For the first time this season, the Elba batters were held in check, in fact, they were almost completely muzzled, being held to three safeties. It was a great let-down from the rain of base hits they had been getting in previous games.

Elba started out as though another victory might be chalked up by scoring twice in the first inning, but that was the extent of the Elba boy's run-making. It was a good ball game until the fatal seventh inning, when by a conglomeration of hits and Elba misplays, etc., Laverne ran wild, scoring seven.

Sparkman Defeats Hamm In Race For Senate Seat

Philip J. Hamm, former State Commissioner of Revenue, was badly defeated by Senator John Sparkman in the race for the Senatorial seat. Statewide returns indicated that Sparkman collected approximately 4 votes to Hamm's one. Hamm, a popular Coffee County man, carried this county by a vote of 2357 to 2121. Voting in Elba was heavy in his favor with the unofficial returns giving Hamm 578 to 229 for Sparkman. Hamm was heavily backed by Gov. Folsom. Both Hamm and Folsom realized defeat Wednesday morning and wired congratulations to the senator.

Quiet Ceremony Performed At Rockford, Ala.

According to a call received here last night by Mrs. T. D. Kendrick from Mrs. Ruby Ellis, sister of the governor, Gov. James E. Folsom was quietly married to Miss Janelle Moore, popular congressman from Union Springs, on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30.

Folsom, a 39-year-old widower with two children, and Miss Moore were married at Rockford in Coosa County by the Rev. B. F. Hixon, pastor of the Baptist Church there. Bill Lyerly, chief of the governor's personal staff, was the only close friend of the governor who attended the ceremony. The only other witness, according to Lyerly, was Mrs. Winston Stewart, wife of the probate judge of Coosa County, where the marriage license was issued. Lyerly said that Folsom was extremely nervous during the ceremony and that tears were running down the cheeks of both the governor and Miss Moore, a comely brunette, as the minister read the vows.

Six Elba Students To Attend Career Conference

Conference To Be Held June 22-25 At Montevallo

MONTVALLO, Ala. — Six students from Elba high school beginning at 2:00. Singers from all over Coffee County and surrounding territory are expected and a fine program is expected. The Gospel Ambassador's Quartet, which has become so popular in this section, will be a special attraction. The public is cordially invited.

For the first time since the Tri-C league started, Elba has been topped from the top of the league standings. Elba lost to Laverne last Sunday. Mr. Martin still believes his team is better than Laverne and that they have an excellent chance to be at the top throughout the season. The kind of hitting Elba has been doing is bound to win ball games.

City Plans Paving Project, Fly And Rat Campaign

At the meeting of the City Council held Monday night, plans were discussed for paving a number of streets. T. U. Crumpton, of T. U. Crumpton and Company, of Birmingham, was present and stated requirements necessary for floating like $100,000 of bonds for paving purposes. McDonald, Hooper and DeFarnette, Engineers of Andalusia, are to make a survey in the near future according to a statement by City Clerk W. W. Ham, after which the paving program, it is hoped, will get underway. It was proposed that $15,000 which the City owes the Emergency Aid Insurance Company, be transferred to T. U. Crumpton and Company, so all of the indebtedness will be in one block.

Under the paving program it is proposed to pave the following streets: Collier and Buford and cross streets, Adkison, Putnam and Rushing, unpaved portion of Hickman Avenue, all of Plant Avenue and cross streets north to Reese. This program is tentative and may be altered later.

The plan discussed, said Mr. Ham is to make the cost of paving as light on property owners

George Andrews Swamps Pitts For Congressional Seat

Measuring Started On Coffee County Peanut Acreage

George Andrews received an overwhelming number of votes to smother his opponent, John E. (Boozer) Pitts in the race for congressman from the Third District. Unofficial and incomplete reports Wednesday gave Andrews about eighty-five per cent of the votes cast. Andrews, popular congressman from Union Springs, has served one term in congress.

Nelson Field Gets New Coat Of Clay

Nelson Field, Elba's new baseball field is being filled with new dirt and graded. The diamond has been too soft for good service but it is now in good condition and future games can be played there very satisfactorily. Elba has always been handicapped in time of wet weather in the matter of playing football or baseball, as the school fields are not blessed with proper drainage. It is a man-sized job to construct a baseball field, especially in a short period of time, but manager James Martin Foy English and others have put in plenty of time and hard work. Local baseball fans can show their appreciation by supporting the Elba baseball team and its management.

For the first time since the Tri-C league started, Elba has been topped from the top of the league standings. Elba lost to Laverne last Sunday. Mr. Martin still believes his team is better than Laverne and that they have an excellent chance to be at the top throughout the season. The kind of hitting Elba has been doing is bound to win ball games.

City Plans Paving Project, Fly And Rat Campaign

As possible, probably on a three-day basis, property owners to pay two-thirds and the City one-third, the City hearing the expense of extras. A definite plan will be worked out and announced later. A delegation was present and urged the City Council to inaugurate an insect and rat eradication campaign in the near future. The project met with the hearty approval of all present. It was suggested that stables and other fly breeding places be sprayed with DDT and buildings all over town be dusted underneath with insect powder. Rat poison is to be put in strategic places. It was estimated that such a campaign will cost approximately $300, so the City Council voted to appropriate $100 providing the business men raise the other $200. It was the consensus of opinion that it will be an easy matter to raise the required funds and a soliciting committee is to be appointed right away for that purpose.

The Clipper is heartily in favor of a city-wide insect and rat eradication program and we believe the project will receive the whole-hearted cooperation of our citizens.

Run-offs In Tax Collector And Commissioner Races

Measuring Started On Coffee County Peanut Acreage

The measuring of Coffee County's peanut acreage will begin this week. W. F. Baker, PM and A County Administrative Officer has announced. Mr. Baker states that all measuring will be done by use of aerial photographs. Twenty men have already received training for this work and additional men will be trained within the county within a few days. It is contemplated that all the acreage within the county will be measured by June 30th.

The acreage of peanuts determined on each farm will be used, in future years, to establish an acreage allotment. In the event marketing quotas are in effect, Acreage allotments are not in effect for the 1948 crop therefore, there is no restriction on the acreage of peanuts planted in 1948.

Elba Singing Society At Baptist Church Sunday

The regular monthly session of the Elba Singing Society will be held at the Baptist Church beginning at 2:00. Singers from all over Coffee County and surrounding territory are expected and a fine program is expected. The Gospel Ambassador's Quartet, which has become so popular in this section, will be a special attraction. The public is cordially invited.

Section Car Jumps Track; Two Hurt

A motor section car jumped the track at the Elba-Kinston crossing in the ACL yards one day last week. Section Foreman Bradley Wambles, who was driving the car, was not seriously hurt, but J. T. Holley, colored section hand, suffered two broken legs and other injuries. He was carried to Enterprise hospital. E. Harris, another colored section hand, was injured but had no broken bones. It was said that a defective wheel caused the car to leave the track.

Fire Department Studies Buildings

Fire Chief Flournoy Whitman, in an interview Tuesday morning, said he believes there are several "fire traps" in Elba and that the most effective way to prevent a disastrous fire is to acquaint his fire boys with the buildings that would cause trouble should fire break out. Chief Whitman said one of the most difficult buildings in town to find one's way in the interior is the Nelson peanut plant building in West Elba, with its maze of elevators, machinery, etc., located in lofty places, so he called a fire drill Friday afternoon to which his men responded promptly and made a quick run to the Nelson plant. The firemen were shown the building and made acquainted with the intricacies of the building, which no doubt will be of great benefit to them should they be called upon to fight a fire there. Chief Whitman said another difficult building is at the Elba Lumber Company plant, so another educational drill was called for that building. He is doing a fine job as leader of Elba's fire department and his fire fighters are enthusiastically supporting him.

Chief Whitman said he wishes to thank the people for their cooperation in observing the recent city ordinance prohibiting vehicles following or getting too close to fire equipment at times of fire.

Elba Lumber Co. One Of County's Leading Industries

Has Had Bearing On County And City History

What is now the Elba Lumber Company has had an intimate connection with the history and progress of Elba and surrounding territory. In 1916 Robert L. Cooper, who later became one of the community's most popular and public-spirited citizens, organized the Cooper Lumber Company, located on seven acres of land west of the ACL tracks in West Elba. In 1925, W. F. Cooper, cousin of R. L. Cooper, became a partner and L. P. Mullins became bookkeeper in April 1926, later being promoted to general superintendent. Mr. Mullins came to Elba in 1920 and served as ACL agent until 1925 when he went out on strike, never to return to the railroad as an employee.

He served as cashier of the Elba Exchange Bank from October, 1925, to April, 1926, at which time he took a job as bookkeeper for the Cooper Lumber Company. Mayo Prescott practically grew up with the company and became planer mill foreman.

The Cooper Lumber Company became one of the largest lumber concerns in South Alabama, operating or handling the production of 20 to 25 million, handling a half-million feet "in" per month and a half million feet "out". As much as seven million feet of lumber was on the yards during the peak year of 1929-30. At the time of the great flood in March 1929, approximately seven million feet were on the yards, one million feet of which floated down Pea River and was lost. Eighty cars of lumber were sold at that time, subject to shipment, but none of it was shipped, owing to the flood. A (Continued to back page)

Whitman Leads Morrow In S. W. District

In one of the longest drawn-out primary elections ever held in Coffee County, on account of the exceedingly lengthy ballot, held Tuesday, May 4th, final returns showed victory for four Coffee County office-seekers. In the heaviest voting of recent years, four other offices were left to be determined in run-offs on June 1st.

For the office of Tax Assessor, W. B. (Bill) Wise, of New Brockton, won over J. Gardner Clark, of Elba, incumbent by a margin of 478 votes, the vote being, Wise 2711, Clark, 2224. Clark carried a large part of the Western side of the county but failed to collect the votes from East Coffee County. The new Tax Assessor is well known throughout the county.

Kermit Crook, member of the Elba High School faculty, overwhelmingly defeated A. C. Dunaway for County Superintendent of Education. Superintendent Dunaway has held the office for the past twelve years, but was defeated by Crook by a 2959 to 2056 vote. Both candidates are Elba residents.

Fountain Lee, Commissioner of the Northwest District, defeated his opponent, J. N. Morrow by a vote of 382 to 265. The closest race in the county was for Member of County School Board of Education. W. Brown, present member of the board polled 2353 votes to 2255 for Essie D. Green.

A run-off between Walter T. Whitman, incumbent, and Mrs. Zelma Morrow Devane was indicated in the race for County Tax Collector, as both failed to (Continued to back page)

Teachers Cooperate With "Better Growth Plan"

Health Officers Offers Examination Of Children

Coffee County school teachers are reporting on their class room activities planned in cooperation with the Coffee County Better Growth Program as requested by Miss Eunora Farris, elementary Supervisor, at the teacher's meeting on April 28.

These reports are being sent to the Health Department along with requests for the examination of children selected by interested and observant teachers because of some complaint of the child or observed difficulty which the family have not seen fit to have treated by the family doctor dentist. When all other means of getting needed professional advice for the child fail, the health officer will examine the child and try to advise the parents where to take the child for treatment or how to improve the condition by personal hygiene.

School children were examined by Dr. Weldner this past week at New Brockton, Enterprise, Kinston, Pine Level, Currie, and Basin. Children will be examined at all other schools where teachers notify the health department that they have children with problems and have made the necessary preparation of records. The record needed in one to identify the child, report the child's complaint, what the teacher has actually seen and the name and mailing address of parents so that a report can be mailed to the home after the health officer has examined the child.

Suit For Tax On Out-Of-State Cigarettes

Montgomery — The Montgomery Circuit Court was called on last week to settle a dispute regarding the taxable status of a quantity of cigarettes purchased from a Chicago dealer firm.

The equity case was brought by J. A. Mealy, who had paid taxes on 2,500 cigarettes which he had purchased from the Chicago dealer. Mealy said he had ordered 150 cartons for himself at a net price and 2,500 for his friends at their request on a non-profit basis.

Mealy charged that the state cannot legally collect either levy on such a transaction, and he asked the court for a declaratory judgment to determine which, if either tax, he can be required to pay.

Governor Proclaims White Cane Week

Montgomery — Pointing out that there are today approximately 250,000 blind Americans in this country, Gov. James E. Folsom said that "this particular group of our handicapped people need help from us in order to take part in the life of the state."

Committee is designed to aid America's blind. The proclamation urged all Alabamians to buy as many White Cane Stamps as possible. The stamps will be sold by civic and church organizations for the aid and support of the blind.

SHORT STORY

The Jester's Last Chance

By JOHN T. KIERAN

ONE more chance to play his old role! One more chance to play on the only thing left of the day when he was hailed as the World's Greatest Clown, as Arsel, the Children's Delight.

In a flash Arsel thought of what was in his trunk, for from his shabby room he could hear the little fellow downstairs bewailing his fate. The circus parade! And it was passing a block down just far enough away that he could not see it, but near enough that he could hear the thrilling rumble of wagon wheels and the delighted shouts of the other children. But to share in the feast of joy was denied the little fellow. A few days before an errant truck had crushed his leg, and there he lay, imprisoned in a heavy cast.

Alabama Hospital Projects Get State And Federal Aid

Montgomery — Word was received last week that Alabama federal aid projects totalling $2,517,113 have been approved by health service authorities in Washington.

Among those listed to receive aid was the Birmingham Health Center and Laboratory which is now under construction on federal grants of $306,644 and $212,214.

The Crippled Children Clinic in Birmingham is being equipped for 100 new orthopedic beds on federal grants of $170,105 and $404,434.

St. Vincent's Hospital, also in Birmingham, will add 90 general beds on federal aid grants of $1,000,000 and $300,000.

Federal funds amounting to $1,944,787 and $663,133 will go to the Langdale Hospital, Langdale, Alabama, for 82 general beds.

Dallas County Health Center, Selma, $100,000 and $30,000.

Tuscaloosa, 200 new general beds, $2,781,500 and $619,332.

Mizzell Memorial Hospital at Opp will get $338,000 and $120,000 for 25 beds and a modern laboratory.

Senator Lister Hill, co-author of the federal hospital aid bill, recently delivered the opening address at the groundbreaking ceremonies at the Langdale project.

Sgt. E. H. Whatley Promoted

GUAM, M. I. (By Mail).—Marine Technical Sgt. Edward H. Whatley, 26, son of H. S. Whatley, Box 31, Elba, was promoted to his present rank here recently. He is currently serving with Company "B" of the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion, First Provisional Marine Brigade.

Prior to enlisting in the Marine Corps in November, 1929, Whatley attended Bradford County High School. During the war he participated in the Guadalcanal, Guam and Okinawa campaigns. He holds the Presidential Unit Citation, Navy Unit Commendation, and a Letter of Commendation.

Surplus Food Made Available To State Schools

Montgomery — Dr. Austin R. Meadows, state superintendent of education, has revealed that the federal government, working through the U. S. Department of Agriculture, made available to Alabama public school lunch programs this school year approximately $2,695,178 worth of surplus food products.

Meadows said that the food was distributed to the public schools over the state that were equipped with lunchroom facilities. He said something to the effect that the food was distributed to the schools and then they started playing again.

The boy looked puzzled. He listened attentively for a moment, then:

"That first piece was so pretty it made you wanna dance or something. But this one is so different. Gee! It sounds like somebody was dead."

Negro Minister Files Suit Against Boswell Amendment

Montgomery — A Birmingham minister has filed suit in the U. S. District Court which charges that the Alabama federal aid projects totalling $2,517,113 have been approved by health service authorities in Washington.

The suit, filed by Eugene Otis Baxter, requests the court to grant a permanent injunction restraining the Jefferson County Board of Registrars from discriminating against Baxter and "other qualified Negroes seeking to register solely on the basis of race or color."

Baxter's suit charged that the Boswell Amendment is unconstitutional. The law requires voters to be able to read and understand the Federal Constitution.

The Negro minister said he applied for registration February 5, but that, even after he answered the questions about the Constitution, he was refused registration.

Kill Weeds Now

There will be fewer weeds to kill later in row crops if a good job is done soon after planting, farmers have learned in past years.

They follow the row planter with a tool, weeder, section harrow, or rotary hoe exactly four days later and then again after four more days. J. B. Willard, extension agricultural engineer, Auburn, says this method gives cheapest and easiest control of weeds and grass in row crops.

Cullman County Celebrates Annual Strawberry Festival

Cullman — Celebrating the berry that has made Cullman farmers known throughout the South, thousands of Alabamians are expected to turn out for the festivities of the eighth annual Strawberry Festival on Friday and Saturday, May 7 and 8.

Queen for the festival is Miss Joyce Leath, a beauty winner on several previous occasions.

HEARING AND DOING GOD'S WORD

WHAT Ezra and Nehemiah led the people to do in the long ago was to put into practice what they heard—to live their religion. The late Gandhi was reported to have said, "I might have embraced Christianity, had Christians lived what they profess."

Let us keep clearly in mind that Ezra was first concerned in instructing the people according to all that God had said in the Scriptures. That comes first. We must have conviction about what is right. We must have a creed. But we are to remember that it is in daily living that we make our creeds effective.

WHAT IS A RELIGIOUS REVIVAL?

THE lesson teaches us to reveal to us how a religious revival broke out in Jerusalem in the long ago, nearly 2,500 years before Christ was born. Well may we ask, "What is a religious revival?"

"Lord, send a revival, and let it begin in my heart." Revivals are prayed down, not talked up. We have fallen into the fallacy of speaking of revivals when some overnight speaker comes along and kicks up a big sensation. Before he leaves town, Pharisaism is more rampant than ever. It is not until the Spirit of God moves upon the hearts of his people and rekindles in them a sense of sin, bringing them to true repentance, that we can have a real religious revival.

When men are convicted of their sins, they will say with Zachariah, "Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold." When men begin to feel and talk and act like that, you have a real religious revival. And I repeat, such revivals are prayed down, not talked up. Now you are ready to read Psalms 119:9-16.

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase earnings—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—more demands that they put into effect. ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be rejected, are recommended. These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employees in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board

Redmon Singing

The J. G. Redmon annual singing was held at Brooklyn Church on Sunday, May 2, with a large attendance and a fine singing in memory of J. G. Redmon.

The house was called to order by L. E. Thomas singing three songs. The class went into organization, singing L. E. Thomas, chairman; J. W. Grimes, vice-chairman; J. B. Hudson, secretary.

D. S. Teal sang Nos. 90, 36, 43 as the introductory lesson, then used the following leaders: A. A. Parker, L. A. Jones, J. E. Harris, A. A. Davis, Columbus Redmon, J. C. Tyler and S. M. Davis. Reces.

Second lesson: Noah H. Helms, W. S. Galloway, W. D. Wise, U. B. Hudson, Curtis Teal, C. O. Grimes, J. E. Bryan, Lonnie Spruill, Chairman sang No. 369. Announced one hour for noon.

Afternoon session: Chairman sang three songs. The following leaders were used: Willie Brooks, B. A. Lowery, Wiley Wiggin, J. H. Jackson, John Wise, Mr. Wise sang No. 281, dedicating it to Rev. W. J. Willis, R. H. Moore, M. B. Killingsworth, H. W. Dean, J. W. Grimes. Reces.

Second lesson: Columbus Redmon sang Nos. 36 and 137, by request; J. E. Bryan, O. J. Clark, B. M. Roberts, Willie Donaldson, W. L. Carnley, N. R. Phillips, L. A. Jones sang Nos. 328, 312 in memory of Bill and Gord. Jones. Closed by singing No. 289. Prayer by W. T. Whitman.

We visited upon this method of thanking the good ladies for the fine spread at noon time.

U. B. Hudson, Sec.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employees reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15 1/2 cent an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15 1/2 cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employees have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

How long will the American public stand for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and abusive use of the right to strike and the disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people permit a few dictatorial union leaders to defy the processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that are either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point is often reached when personal interests must be held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15 1/2 cent per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

1939 Average Annual Earnings	1947 Average Annual Earnings	1947 Average Annual Earnings with 15 1/2 Cent Increase Recommended by President's Board

Declaration of War

Scarcely a ripple has been caused by a statement that George Baldanzi, executive vice president of the CIO, made last week at the annual CIO convention in Atlantic City, N. J. Baldanzi spoke after several other CIO leaders had reported the union's membership drive in the South had been something of a "flop".

He explained what he thought was the reason for the "flop" and what the CIO intended about it.

"We are faced with violence and religious bigotry in the South," he declared. "For protection you use your own fists. I am telling you that before we get through with the Southern drive, based on what we are now facing, there is going to be bloodshed, there will be people killed in the South."

That's a rather ominous way to conduct a union membership drive and it is hardly the way to win friends and influence people. It sounds more like a declaration of war. But maybe that's what this CIO leader wants. He's got to deliver the goods. At this same convention where he talked so boldly, he got his salary raised from $9,000 to $13,500 a year, which puts him in the bracket of the highest paid generals.—Dothan Eagle.

Defeated Candidate

Whether for purely personal gain, the prestige that goes with holding a public office, or for the desire to aid his community and his fellowman, ever so often a number of candidates announce for public office. The winners get slight reward for their efforts, but what of the poor candidate who gets defeated?

The candidate who is destined to go down in defeat a few months hence usually listens to a little urging by some of his relatives or personal friends and decides to be elected to office. He has lots of friends, he has the experience and ability. He is strictly a nice guy who can't see how he could be defeated.

After his decision to run he goes before the committee to qualify. Immediately he gets clipped for a qualifying fee, which is quite reasonable. But, at the same time, it would have bought the wife a new pair of shoes. Then he goes by the newspaper with his announcement and runs smack into another fee which is reasonable enough from the printers point of view, but which nevertheless will take the profit out of a couple of days work. His ad is read and the word gets around. Acquaintances pat him on the back and wish him luck. Everything is going fine. He gets stuck for numerous calls, but then whoever heard of a candidate who didn't have to treat his prospective supporters? Before he gets ready to start his campaign he comes by the printing office to get his candidate cards and finds out that food isn't the only thing that has undergone a raise in price.

A few weeks before election he starts to canvass—annoying that he is a candidate isn't nearly enough to convince us voters that he wants the job—he has to personally explain it to each one of us.

He arranges for time off from his work, fills his tank with gas and starts out. It just so happens that the farmer he calls on is plowing in the back field at the time and he has to trod half a mile through plowed ground to make his little speech and present his card. Of course he could have left the card at the house, but that might be interpreted as lack of interest so he rolls up his britches leg and starts the hike. His next prospect has a couple of overgrown dogs that are in foul humor on this particular day and don't seem to like his looks. After retreating to the car and waiting for a few minutes the dogs are called off and he gets to make another call. So as to make a good impression he speaks of the "playful pups" and talks crops to a man who has already forgotten more about crops than he can ever hope to learn. He drops in at a neighboring store for a pause that refreshes and gets stuck for a half-dozen more for the customers who happen to be around and consider candidates happy hunting. He returns home at the end of the day—his feet hurt, he is tired and the bed is so inviting, but he has to put in an appearance at a sixth grade play he doesn't give two whoops about, but he can't afford to miss a chance to put in public appearance. He hangs around, promoting himself, until the last person has gone, then goes home and gets the alarm an hour earlier so he can make up tomorrow for a few of the people he didn't see today.

He gets ample opportunity to contribute to every "worthy cause" under the sun. Regardless of its merit he has to dig down and fork over with a grin. He is helpless to escape a dozen nets set to trap designing candidates. He makes speeches to vernal groups of people who long ago made up their minds who they were going to vote for and he has to visit acquaintances and relatives who for years he has found repulsive and who have been perfectly pleased that he didn't annoy them. Now, however he needs their vote and they need his attention.

He talks to thousands of people, and if they don't exactly promise to vote for him they all wish him luck and promise, "I'll do all I can for you." Both of them know that "all I can" means exactly nothing but the rules and customs of our society prevent either of them from mentioning such an unpleasant fact.

He meets many, many people who have their own little ideas about how his office should be run in the event he is elected, and most of them don't hesitate to give plenty of advice. He listens intently to what he considers a bunch of hog wash and empty promises, "I'll see what I can do."

He drives his car more miles in a month than he ordinarily would in six. He shakes more hands in that month than most of us do in a lifetime. He spends more money than his income tax amounts to.

The opposition is also at work. Every little offense he ever committed and some he didn't is dragged out and given a public airing. Usually he has to dig up a little dirt on the other fellow to help his case along.

Election day comes along and he and his cohorts establish themselves at vantage points not too far from the polls just as a reminder to vote for him. He gets a little keyed up during the day and at 5:00 P. M. he goes home to spend several miserable hours before the returns come in.

Finally he gets word—things didn't go so good in beat so-and-so, Joe but don't worry the still plenty of time. Don't look so good these first few boxes Joe, but just wait until so-and-so comes in. Uncertainty and hope gradually fade and he finally realizes that no matter how the few remaining boxes go, his goose is cooked.

Just how he feels then only a defeated candidate can tell you. Probably it's pretty little. Maybe he blames his friends for not supporting him, but most likely he blames his own shortcomings and wonders what they are. Probably he temporarily develops an inferiority complex with a desire to see and be seen by no one.

Maybe he is a little more practical and realizes that getting beat in a political race is not a disgrace; that for all the money he spent he still has his health. Maybe after he thinks it over for a while he will feel good over the fact that tomorrow when he goes downtown he can go and do just what he very well wants to without the fear of antagonizing a voter. Maybe he can even grin a little while he thinks that tomorrow when somebody says, "how about a coke?" he can reply with, "Roll you high dice for it."

—O—O—

The new look keeps getting longer. Just a few more inches and Elba's street sweeping problem will have been solved.

—O—O—

Election Interest

In the past few years we have noticed that many of our national leaders are concerned about the growing lack of interest in elections. These men would have been surprised to learn how many Elba people were interested enough to get rained on and then stay up all night to see how the election was going.

We noticed that practically all the candidates present were on the winning side. Maybe the others stayed away because they felt that their presence would embarrass all the voters who promised to vote for them and then didn't.

—O—O—

Eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow you probably won't be able to pay the price of groceries.

—O—O—

Men are forever making fun of women's hats, and justifiably so. However, a Connecticut hat manufacturer has set out to alter the situation. They have a collection of men's hats from all over the world. This collection contains many styles from the "coonskin" caps from the north woods to an inverted bushel basket worn in China. After a look at this collection maybe we husbands will have to resort to kicking about the price instead of the style.

Rawls Is Outstanding Hotel

Ever since we came to Elba we have heard that W. T. (Mack) McKinney was running a fine hotel in Enterprise, but it wasn't until last week that we got around to paying him a visit. Mack and I attended school together in Opp some 15 years ago. Since then he has gone a long way in the hotel business. Starting in the Covington Hotel in Opp, he graduated to the Troy Tavern in Troy, then to the Gay Teague in Montgomery where he was assistant manager for four years. He had been manager of a hotel in Grenada, Mississippi for two years when the war came along and he got a full-time job in the C. B.'s. After the war he and another hotel man acquired the lease on the Rawls and Mack has been operating it ever since.

The Rawls has been completely remodeled and is now a hotel Coffee County can be proud of. It is the only hotel in the county and its 55 rooms, all with private baths and telephones, are completely fitted four nights every week.

The dining room is their pride and joy. It is capable of seating 75 people and is the scene of many social events and banquets. It is under the very capable management of Mrs. McKinney, who has had about ten years experience in this kind of work. It wasn't near enough to meal time for us to get a sample of the cooking but we understand there is none better.

Elba is unfortunate in not having a large hotel of its own. Mack says that very often he has guests who have been directed to him by residents of Elba. He assured us that this interest on the part of fellow Coffee Countians is appreciated and every effort is made to provide for the persons involved.

Knowing Mack as we do we have no doubt but that he offers the very best service to be found, and he has a hotel he can well be proud of. We have only one complaint—it isn't located in Elba. But since travelers don't find the accommodations they desire in Elba, it's nice that they don't have to go outside the county to find them.

receive a majority of votes cast in a four-cornered race, the vote was Devane 1862, Whitman 1461, Littlejohn 1136, Whitman 425.

In the race for Commissioner in the Southwest District a runoff looms between Flournoy Whitman and J. D. Morrow, as neither received a majority, of votes cast. It was a four-cornered contest which resulted as follows: Whitman 692, Morrow 427, L. F. (Fletcher) Pierce, 249, J. T. Pierce, 375.

In the Northwest District five candidates were in the race, which calls for a runoff between Ziglar and Lee. Votes were as follows: Ziglar 260, Lee 241, Smith 191, Hornsby 115 and Stroud 101.

Top man in the Southeast District race for County Commissioner was Allen with 618 votes, followed by Helms with 531, Heath was the choice of 507 voters and DeVaughan received 151 votes, which calls for a runoff between Allen and Helms.

These are official figures released by the Coffee County Canvassing Committee. On account of the unusually long ballot and heavy vote cast in Tuesday's primary election, the committee did not finish the canvass until mid-afternoon today (Thursday), making it impossible for the Clipper to publish a tabulation of votes this week, but will do so in next week's issue.

Tuesday's ballot was probably the most difficult for voters and election officials in the history of the county and returns were very slow in coming in. In larger boxes election boards worked until the wee small hours of Wednesday morning. No report could be obtained in Elba from four boxes until released by the canvassing board.

Several thousand persons were in Elba Tuesday night to hear the election returns and owing to the lateness of the reports, many stayed all night. The Elba school band gave a concert in front of Elba Theatre in the early part of the night. Manager Dozier Roberts had spent much time and money in constructing large bulletin boards in front of the theatre. His office was also headquarters for receiving and broadcasting reports by telephone and loud speaker. His excellent service was greatly appreciated by a large number of people. Many persons attended a high class movie while they were waiting for election returns. It was a sleepy lot of people there who were not in bed to be seen on Elba streets Wednesday.

POSSUM KILLING
L. L. Cardwell, prominent farmer of Victoria community, visited the Clipper office and reported that one night recently he heard a commotion in his chicken house about 11:30 and upon investigation, he found a large possum, which he killed with a stick, leaving the dead animal lying on the ground. The next morning he found seven lively little possums huddled around their dead mother. He said he killed the little varmints, also.

About People and Things

(By C. B. McDowell)

Red Roof

Last Friday when I turned the corner at Julian Taylor's home and headed north, I saw something in the distance, through the tree branches, which for a moment made me think there was a fire upon investigation, I discovered that it was Mrs. E. Dorsey's house roof, which had just been painted the reddest red I have seen in some time. All the roofs of her building have been painted the reddest red, and they are unusually pretty. Mrs. Dorsey's home is one of the most attractive in the city.
